Hello Mike:

Below is a summary of the call we had last Friday afternoon with representatives of Speaker Pelosi and Senators Feinstein and Harris. Robert from the Speaker's office was on the call and asked most of the questions highlighted below.

We are working out one more process issue with the Navy regarding the 5 year review and will probably address that this week. I think we are in a good place with the Navy and I believe they will be able to start some background sampling this summer.

Let me know if you have any questions. I will keep you posted on the remaining items with the Navy.

Subject: HPNS | Briefing with Congressional offices

Enrique and Angeles,
Here is a quick summary of the call today.

Superfund and Office of Public Affairs briefed staff in the offices of Speaker Pelosi and Senators Dianne Feinstein and Kamala Harris. We were joined by folks in headquarters Office of Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs and Chris Hage, Region 9's Special Advisor to the Regional Administrator. The goal of the briefing was to update the Congressional offices on EPA's proposed path forward letter sent to the Navy on April 11, 2019. The letter proposes a plan for the Navy to phase the field work and completion of documents to strategically move forward in a technically defensible way that also confirms cleanup goals are protective of human health, while providing a publicly transparent process. The Congressional staff were engaged. They asked questions about schedule and next steps; they also asked for clarifications on the future rework process at other parcels and how the Five-Year Review report and the Parcel G Work Plan relate to one another.

Also, Brent provided me the information for the EPA headquarters participants: Tony Frye, Director of Senate Affairs in OCIR and Christian Rodrick, Special Assistant to the Deputy Associate Administrator for Congressional and Intergovernmental Affairs.
